How is the Question of Race and Ethnicity Asked

The “Informational Copy” shows the content of the United States Census 2000 “Long” form questionnaire. Each household will receive either a short form (100-percent questionnaire) or a long form (100-percent and sample questions). The long form questionnaire includes the same 6 population questions and 1 housing question that are on the Census 2000 short form, plus 20 additional population questions, and 20 additional housing questions. On average, about 1 in every 8 households will receive the long form. The content of the forms resulted from reviewing the 1990 census data, consulting with federal and non-federal data users, and conducting tests.
